FARMERS SIGN UP CONTRACTS

"Our Town"

J. B. WHITE

Not many know anything about Vincenzo de Galilei, a native of Pisa, but parents, wondering how to rear boys, can profit by his example. In an age when science, an outcast, was on the threshold of demonstrating important revelations, this man, wise for his day, declared himself for free and open inquiry into scientific matters, unrestrained by the weight of authority and tradition.

He planned a business career for his son but when the boy displayed ability as an author, musician and artist the old man sent him to the university to study medicine, most likely to prove profitable. The son, however, took to mathematics and physics, and the old man let him have his way.

When you look at your watch or clock to see the hour, you enjoy the fruit of that boys experimental skill, because all modern time pieces are based on the isochronism of the pendulum which he discovered. Moreover, he invented the telescope which inaugurated modern observation of the celestial universe, and established many other new facts. The moral of this story is for Milam county parents: Your son will never be a Galilei if you cram your prejudices and intolerances down his throat.

It would seem that people who have experienced the losses that the American public suffered through stock speculation could have sense enough to be wary of such ventures. However, the hope is useless. Even before the 1929 crash there were voices in the land warning people not to speculate in stocks and those voices were giving advice based on past experience. The gullible gentry had some money in those days and an idea that a million dollars could be obtained without doing any work if one followed the market and traded right, which was just the two things that were necessary for them to be led to the slaughter.

Undoubtedly the peoples of the world desire peace. So says Evangeline Booth, head of the Salvation Army, who has just completed a three months tour of Europe, Asia, Australia, New Zealand and the United States. "I found," she says, "an all-absorbing desire for peace" and a "healthy horror of war. The people want to work out their present discontent unhampered by threats of another holocaust" and "will not be stampeded by any bellicose statements into other shambles."

Just the same the nations of the world are arming themselves on a stupendous scale, surpassing even the preparations which heralded the approach of fighting in 1914. Nationalistic sentiment is being carefully worked up almost above everything and in some of the most powerful nations, the people have no more choice between war and peace than the speechless armament.

We feel sure that General Booth's conclusions as to the people's desire is correct but we doubt very much if the people of any nation have the power to prevent war if the government determines to fight. This applies, we fear, to such democratic countries as the United States and Great Britain and positively to such autocratically controlled governments as those now ruling Russia, Germany, Italy and Japan.

There are not only born one a minute but they seldom learn from experience! With all the evidence of the past few years to give them warning we read that thousands of people in New England have been robbed in another security bubble that blew up, leaving estimated assets of $100,000 and $21,000,000 liabilities in the form of practically worthless stock.

It has happened before and it will happen again. If you don't believe it and think that you are immune will you please tell us whether you took part in the dime letter craze of a few weeks ago, with the idea of having unknown benefactors throughout the land to send you $15,000 or so in dimes?

'NOT GUILTY' VERDICT IN LIQUOR CASE HERE

A unanimous verdict of "not guilty" was rendered here last Wednesday afternoon by a jury of 12 men who ended a case against N. J. Green of Rockdale, one of the victims of a grand jury raid some weeks ago when an effort was made to enforce the prohibition laws in Milam county.

At the same time another liquor dealer in Cameron who had paid a $1000 federal license was arrested. His case is still pending.

The jury in the Green case deliberated only a few minutes then returned to the court room and announced a verdict of not guilty. The case was generally regarded as a test of public opinion. Whether further prosecutions will be had, has not developed.

Jack Lewis, former criminal district attorney, defended Mr. Green.

That makes it a total annual pay roll and taxes for Cameron proper of $46,062.65. That is an average monthly pay roll of $3,838.55 to Cameron Proper. Louisa's Letter

JUDGE BY MERIT, NOT BY COST

Dear Girls:

So many of us judge the value of things by their cost. Take for instance, water which is one of the best aids for keeping our bodies in condition. If we were charged so much a bottle and were told that each person should drink a quart a day, we would pinch and scrape to furnish each member of our family with his prescribed portion, and we would see that each child drank his every drop. But since water does not cost much, most of us forget about it and drink very little.

The one thing, however, which I had in mind when I started this column today was a government bulletin. I have just been glancing over one which covers the life of a child between the ages of one and six. This little book, which was written by competent authorities has a world of information in it .It covers the ailments, accidents, clothing, play material, solution of bad habits, a bit of psychology and many other things relative to the pre-school child. This little book, which is worth a great deal, can be had for 10 cents, which covers its cost of mailing, etc. But I suppose the mere fact that it doesn't cost but ten cents will prevent some of us from getting one. The bulletin on "Infacy of the Child," is also very helpful particularly to the mother with her first child.

Going back to the cost of things, I remember a good while ago when I was attending a State college, that one of my friends declared that her reason for not selecting that school was that it was a cheap college. I had to laugh, for, as a matter of fact, our faculty and buildings were the finest of any in the state. This was, of course, due to the fact that the State Treasury supplied a great portion of money necessary for such a distinguished faculty and such a lovely plant. My friend was judgng by what she would have to pay.

So it doesn't always follow that the thing which costs the less in dollars and cents is cheap. It may be worth a great deal more than something expensive, so we will find it well to judge by merit rather than price.

Yours,
LOUISA.

Kansas City.—Declaring he would commit suicide before standing trial, Robert J. Noonan, safe cracker, ate all the metal in his cell but the iron bars. His repast included hairpins, metal from his garters, a handle from a cup, a razor blade, several electric light bulbs and various other articles. He is still alive.

CUT OUT HORSES TONGUE

Chestertown, Md.—Officers are looking for a man who was cruel and brutal enough to cut the tongue out of the mouth of a living horse. Who he was and why he did such a thing is a mystery.

SERUMS MADE AVAILABLE

Philadelphia, Pa.—A method by which blood serums for treating such diseases as scarlet fever and certain streptococcic infections and as preventatives against scarlet fever, measles, chickenpox and mumps may be dried and made available for use in every village, however isolated, has recently been developed by Dr. Earl W. Flosdorf, young physical chemiest in the University of Pennsylvania bacteriology department.

The perishable liquid serums are evaporated while frozen with a quick freezing process with "dry ice" which locks the molecules, held at 110 degrees below zero Fahrenheit for half hour and with the use of high-vacuum pump renders it 99.95 per cent dry. It is then placed in the same vacuum sealed container in which it was transferred from liquid to solid.

CRIPPLE DISAPPEARS

Uniontown, Pa.—Louis Moralt, 43, a former miner who had been crippled ten years ago by an accident, loved the mines so much that his relatives were forced to watch him to keep him from returning. However, he eluded them recently, set off in his wheel chair, narrowly escaped death in the heavy street traffic and reached the mines. All traces of him or his chair vanished at the entrance to one of the shafts.

DANGEROUS RIDE

Arlee, Mont.—Attempting to coast a flat car, loaded with steel rails, into position, the car went out of control of Conductor G. F. Wilkinson and dashed down the mountains, crashing into a motor car speedster, bearing his two friends, killing them and stopping only after it had cruised dangerously for twenty-nine miles. Beside Wilkinson for most of the ride lay the dead body of one of his friends which had been hurled up beside him.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities that poison the system when retained.

Then you may suffer nagging backache, dizziness, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen limbs; feel nervous, miserable—all upset.

Don't delay! Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are especially for poorly functioning kidneys. They are recommended by grateful users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

To The People

Twelve years ago I established this business in Cameron. In the beginning my policy was firmly established—that of giving the people a merchandising service that would not only meet their needs but justify the high aims of service we set out to render.

On Saturday, June 8 my Twelvth Anniversary will be observed by opening in my own building one door north of my old location. For several weeks I have been making expensive improvements in this building to accommodate my large stock of merchandise. The home of Gohmert's Variety Store will be ready by Saturday June 8 when we celebrate our 12th Anniversary with a great 9c sale to show appreciation for your patronage and to mark the date on which we occupy our new building.

I do not want this to be just another sale. It is going to be first of all an expression of my gratitude to hundreds of loyal customers who have made my business succeed. Then it is going to be something unusual in the way of giving bargains and saving you money. We can afford to sacrifice many profits during the event if we can but find a way to say "I thank you for your favors, your friendships and your loyalty through these twelve years."

My store will be closed Thursday and Friday getting ready for the opening at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Friday evening the store will be open for inspection but no goods will be sold.

In appreciation of your many favors and extending to one and all a warm welcome to our 12th Anniversary, I am,

Gratefully yours,
L. F. GOHMERT.

Beating the Depression.

The depression, it seems, ended last year for the chief executives of many an industrial corporation.

Reports to the Security Commission, as checked by the Associated Press, reveal that $31,750 was the average pay check of 771 executives, with 172 receiving $50,000 or more. The range was from a few hundred dollars to $365,000, the stipend of Thomas J. Watson, president International Business Machines Corporation.

It's Good News Anyway.

Frof. Irving Fisher, Yale economist and business statistician, has reasons for saying "the growing conviction the depression is nearing its end is justified," although we do not assert that we understand the brother's argument.

Nevertheless, it is good news for most of us in Milam county who have been anxiously looking for the day when the depression can be officially and actually buried. Let us assume, cautiously, that the learned authority knows what he is talking about and make our plans for the brighter days ahead.

Says Labor Will Fight.

That organized labor is ready to fight for its rights is the gist of a warning from William Green, President of the American Federation of Labor, who recently addressed a large gathering in New York.

Mr. Green was, we suspect, putting pressure upon Congress to act favorably upon labor's program, including a two year extension of NRA, the the Wagner Labor Disputes bill and the 30 hour Work bill. He talked before the Supreme Court rendered its decision on the NRA but he intimated a general strike if the workers feel that both Congress and the Courts stand in the way of what labor believes to be its just due.

Pointedly, the labor chieftain boasted that "the workers can mobilize their political strength and compel those men in Congress who deny us our rights to remain at home."

Fight Typhoid—Kill Flies.

Citizens of Cameron should begin now to think about avoiding typhoid fever this summer. The American Medical Association says that remarkable improvement has been noted in the typhoid mortality rates in the large cities of the country. No reason exists for typhoid in smaller places and it is incumbent upon every good citizen to give proper attention to this dangerous disease.

Typhoid, as our readers know, is transmitted by flies or human carriers. The fly, feeding on filth from a typhoid patient, crawls over the food that somebody else eats, and another typhoid case develops. The exact details of the transmission of this disease are not pleasant to contemplate.

One of the chief weapons in the war on typhoid is the death of flies. Every citizen should be on the battlefront. Stables and barns, as well as houses should be screened. Where theowners decline to do this they should be compelled to act. The fly is the typhoid carrier, for that reason "swat the fly" is not an idle slogan.

This summer, typhoid will probably attack some of our people. It may be a citizen who has taken every precaution, but is the victim of another's careless disregard. It may be an old person, or a young child. There is no way to tell. The only thing that we can do is to fight the disease as best we can in the light of modern science. The message that is strongest is: "Kill the fly."

Base Hit For the League.

Two weeks ago the League of Nations was about to suffer irreparable injury because Benito Mussolini was sending troops into East Africa after warning the League not to pay any attention to the appeal of the Ethiopian emperor or to Italy's refusal to negotiate according to the terms of a treaty between the two powers.

Last week League prestige picked up when the Italian dictator consented to arbitrate, a longer time limit, a League survey and the appointment of a fifth arbitrator if the four appointed failed to agree. Apparently the League had achieved a notable triumph.

We are advised, however, that just now the rainy season covers Ethiopia and any military campaign is out of the question until the fall. Maybe the fighting has been postponed rather than averted.

Would Revive Foreign Trade.

The efforts of the nations of the world to live within themselves and to be entirely self-sufficient mean, in the opinion of many observers, a lower living standard everywhere, with enforced economic regimentation the general rule.

Believing that a crisis in world recovery is to be expected this year, Secretary Hull is eager to explore the possibilities of cooperation in disposing of national surpluses thru a free exchange of goods between the countries of the world. Thus, it is argued, each nation will gain, unemployment will gradually vanish and there will be a general rise in the standard of living.

Ther ewill be necessary some form of established currency and a general lessening of trade restrictions, whether by quotas or tariffs. There must be a realization that mutual profit comes to those nations which exchange goods and that it is impossible, in the long run, to continue to sell to others without buying from them in turn.

In a recent speech on commerce, Secretary Hull pointed out that "the commercial world is a network of artificial and arbitrary trade discriminations and obstructions" which has destroyed $22,000,000,000 of international trade, making millions of workers idle.

The Press and Public Officers.

Thomas Jefferson, roundly denounced by many of the editors of his day, had to bestir himself and his friends to inaugurate a newspaper which would support his policies. He was a firm believer in the power of the press and repeatedly emphasized his belief in the value of the freedom of the press.

Public officials in many parts of the United States today do not agree with Jefferson. They believe that their acts are sacrosanct. They credit themselves with infallibility, or in case of mistake they would deny the expression of criticism.

There are some reprehensible newspaper editors in the country but not many. Most of them are honest men, believing in the honored traditions of a free press but reluctant to antagonize the elected officials unless compelled by the overwhelming demand of conscience.

The average citizen of Cameron probably does not realize how soon the affairs of this county, this state and nation would get into the permanent power of a small group of selfish men unless the press was active in disseminating news, and when necessary uncovering official misconduct and crookedness.

Naturally, when a politician is criticised, he dislikes the editor and the newspaper. Unless the journal has the goods on him he goes into court, very often assisted and abetted by other politicians who help run the ring that is always threatening to assume full control of popular government, with an eye on the possible swag.

Of course, the Herald does not, in its political criticims, venture upon the personal lives of men in public life. That is their business unless it gets into the courts. With their public acts, however, the case is entirely different, and the press is duty bound to inform its people and to represent their interests until a decision can be had either in the courts or at the polls.

Cameron's Best Chance

If any citizen in Cameron would travel widely throughout the United States there would be discovered many places where people live and do their best to get along. In fact the revelation of the similarity of towns and cities would be surprising.

One would discover, for example, towns and cities that have Cameron surpassed in any respect that the proud dweller in our midst might wish to brag upon. There are cities with industries so far ahead of our own that to dream of equality were a foolish mockery; there are cities so much larger than Cameron that to imagine equality in size were but an insane delusion; there are cities so far ahead of us in what so many call the conveniences and luxuries of life that nothing but an idle mind would attempt comparison.

The statements made in the above paragraph being true and similar assertions being equally true along any line that might be taken up, why is it that so many of our people imagine that by "boosting," which is sometimes nothing but "blowing" they can fool the world while they blind themselves? There is, to our mind, nothing so foolish as a small town or city trying to create a "big" impression, trying to leave visitors and non-visitors under the misleading opinion that the sun rises and sets exclusively in Cameron.

The Herald would not be misjudged. No one will accuse it of laggardly supporting the various efforts that have been made towards the improvement of Cameron. At the same time, common sense and truth require that we recognize, in our undertakings the relative position occupied by Cameron and that we bend our efforts towards ends that will promote the good of the people of this community.

Getting down to bed rock, at bottom, there are in every town and city families and individuals trying to be honest, clean and intelligent, who seek only a fair return from life for the labor that they furnish, and at the same time, ask only an opportunity for proper self-development for themselves and children. In this great field, which is the end of life itself, Cameron stands on equality with London, New York, and any other settlement on the face of the globe. In this arena of activity we can compete, not only upon equality, but very often, on account of the absence of adverse conditions, under more favorable circumstances, than many larger cities.

Swarms of Officers

In re-reading that immortal document, the Declaration of Independence, which recites the greviances which impelled the American colonies to rise and throw off the British yoke, we were struck by a paragraph which appealed to us with a new significance. Referring to King George, III, it declared.

"He has erected a multitude of offices and send hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out our substance."

It appears that "swarms of officers" were distasteful to the sturdy forefathers. What could they say to the army of office holders who "harass our people and eat out our substance" today?

Every session of Congress and every session of the state legislature enacts laws creating new offices. Seldom is an office once established ever abolished, except to create a different and more expensive office or offices, in its place. Office-holders salaries are often raised, but never lowered.

Some day, possibly a majority of the voters will rebel, as did the early fathers, and by their ballots, instead of bullets, call a halt on those legislators whose chief aim appears to be the increase of public pay-rolls.

Odorless, Tasteless Refrigeration!

Odorless . . . because the constantly changing air freshens the interior of the modern ice refrigerator, thus removing strong odors. This air-conditioning process makes it possible to place, in open vessels, butter or milk, in the same storage space with onions, cabbage, or other foods with a distinctive odor. The air-washing effect of the melting ice carries all odors out of your refrigerator. Each food retains its own individual flavor. Home Canning

The modern easy way

Since this is canning time, it is the ideal time to discover the labor- and money-saving efficiency of the 1935 gas ranges.

These new gas ranges offer the utmost in flexibility—from full flame for rapid boiling in jelly-making, to a very low flame (or simmer burner) for proper cooking of preserves and jams. For oven canning, oven heat control assures just the right temperature . . . improved insulation makes possible more cooking on the same amount of gas and helps to keep kitchen cool.

This month your gas company is featuring special displays of these new ranges and offering them on the easiest kind of terms. See them and learn how you can modernize that kitchen for little money.

LITTLE WINS AGAIN.

PICARD REAL THREAT.

OWENS BREAKS RECORDS.

THE NIGHT GAME TRIAL.

ALL-STAR POSSIBILITIES.

ROSS REGAINS CROWN.

BASEBALL NOTES.

IN SHORT——.

In what was described as the most thrilling championship match in the history of the British Amateur, W. Lawson Little took top honors in that event by defeating Dr. William Tweddell 1 up in the 36 hole final. Little, in defeating Dr. Tweddell, became the first golfer other than an Englishman to win the crown twice in succession. The breath-taking finish climaxed Little's rally which had followed a poor first round that nearly resulted in defeat. Little's plans immediately after the tourney were to remain in England for the British Open.

Henry Pickard, tall Hearshey, P., pro and leading money winner of the past winter golfing season, established himself as a real threat in the National Open, under way June 6, with his victory in the Metropolitan Open tourney at Great Neck, L. I. Picard's strong 33 on the final nine enabled him to win over such stars as Runyan, Lacey and Macfarlane. In the open, however, Picard and the rest will have to watch Olin Dutra. Dutra has a habit of winning tournaments when ill and under the doc's care, and just a week ago he was reported under the weather again.

Jesse Owens, Ohio State's versatile track and field star, breaks into the limelight again, this time with the astonishing accomplishment of breaking three world records in one afternoon. The Negro also tied an accepted world mark as he led his team to the runner-up position in the thirty-fifth annual Western Conference meet. Owens tied Frank Wykoff's world 100-yard dash record of 9.4 seconds to start the proceedings, then followed with a new mark of 26 feet, 8 1-4 inches in the broad jump, surpassing Nambu's record by 6 1-8 inches. The leap established Owens undoubtedly as the greatest broad jumper of all time. In the 220 yard dash he clipped .3 second off Locke's accepted world mark of 20.6, and to finish the day he won the 220 low hurdles with a mark of 22.6, clipping .4 second off the world standard. 'Twas a great day for Owens, though his school was nosed out by Michigan for team honors.

The Adams cup crew race this year at Annapolis saw one of the most stirring races ever put on at the home of the iddles as Penn defeated Navy by the slim margin of a tenth of a second. Harvard's representatives were but a length and a half behind the Navy eight. President Roosevelt witnessed the thrilling battle, and called the race a great one. The Penn and Navy crews are two of the best the East has had in years, and will be ready to meet the challenge of the West, led by the Poughkeepsie regatta this month.

Night baseball in the majors received a trial recently when the Reds and the Phils played a game in Cincinnatti under the lights. Over 25,000 spectators enjoyed the fray, particularly because of the fact that the Reds won 2 to 1. Although only ten hits were allowed in the game, the managers of the respective clubs were of the opinion that the pitchers just happened to be right, and that no lighting imperfections were the cause of the scarcity of blows. However, the nocturnal game remains an experiment, as it remains to be seen whether such crowds will return to other night games.

Although the annual All-Star game is still a month away, it might be worth while to look over the records and see who are likely to be picked up by Cochrane and Frisch, the rival managers, who will select their own teams this year instead of managing players selected through newspaper vote. Cochrane is expected to do his own catching with either Bill Dickey or Rick Ferrell in reserve. On the basis of this season's records, John Whitehead could hardly be left off the American League twirling staff, though it is unlikely that he will start on the mound. Lefty Gomez, whose work thus far has been hampered by lack of support, is the logical starting pitcher, with several of a group including Harder, Rowe, Bridges, Ferrell, Allen and Grove to assist Whitehead with the relief duties. Lou Gehrig will get the call at first, with Charley Gehringer a likely choice for the middle sack, although Buddy Myer has been going strong in the past few games, Joe Cronin should get the call at short, with Johnny Fox again switching to third for the benefit of his hitting power. Werber and Myer would make an excellent pair for infield reserve. Simmons, Averill and Bob Johnson probably belong in the outfield with Sammy West, the best defensive outfielder in the circuit, a natural choice for substitute duty.

In the National League, the catching job seems open, though Frankie Frisch would not be making a bad choice in selecting Jimmy Wilson, his former team-mate now managing the Phils, or Bill Delancey, the Cards' present backstop. Van Mungo, Carl Hubbell and Dizzy Dean should all be mound choices, with one of the three as starter. A group including Warnecke, Schumacher, Fitzsimmons, Paul Dean, Cy Blanton, and Fred Frankhouse should supply the remainder of the reserve corps. Terry, Frisch, Vaughn and Martin would supply a proper infield, with Lindstrom and Bartell, should the latter be recovered from his injuries as capable reserve men. The outfield will probably be selected from the list that includes Mel Ott, Joe Medwick, Paul Waner, Wally Berger, Babe Ruth and Joe.

Amid many boos that echoed throughout the crowd, Barney Ross was declared winner over Jimmy McLarnin in a furious fifteen-round battle. The fight was extremely close with both fighters getting pretty well battered, yet both lasting the route. In winning the fight, Ross regained the welterweight throne in getting his second win over McLarnin in three bouts. After the decision, McLarnin's manager declared that it was Jmmy's last fight.

Caught on the Diamond—The A's have been consistently at the top of the American League in team hitting this year and in Foxx and Johnson they have two contenders for individual honors, yet the club has had to fight to stay out of the cellar. . . . which doesn't speak well of the pitching. . . . Frank Pytlak, when he led off for the Indians recently, became the first backstop since Cochrane in 1929 to boast the No. 1 spot in the line up. . . . After Babe Ruth hit three homers and a single in seven innings against the Pirates, he announced definitely that he was not ready to quit as rumored. . . . We do not blame him. . . . The first open outburst of the Johnson-Indians trouble came when the club was on its last road trip through the East.. . . . Kamm and Wyatt shifted to the Giants, are said to have been cramping the style of the newcomers. . . . who, by the way, are 100 per cent for their manager. . . . Less than one hour after the Mellilo-Solters trade, the latter started in a game agaist his former team mates and socked a triple his first time up. . . . After the near fight between the Deans, Pepper Martin and Al Todd, Manager Jimmy Wilson declared war on Diz and Daf. . . . The declaration is sure to bring out the cash customers when the teams meet in Philly this month. . . . Steve Swetonic, leadng Pirate hurler in 1932, has been cut adrift. . . . The story goes the rounds that Jimmy Dykes has already sent to Mike Cochrane the bill for a $20 hat which Cochrane bet him that the Sox wouldn't finish out of the cellar.

Briefly—Omaha was finally licked when he ran second to another horse in the Wihtres Mile at Belmont. . . . Believing that sports writers have more influence than any other faction on this youth of today, Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion of the world, has urged curricular study of sport pages as a method of keeping up with the world's forward steps. . . . Tunney believes that through the sports writers the growing spirit of nationalism, which is turning boys' clubs into organizations of future military defense, may be curbed. Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, now overseas, has decided to see how she fares in smaller British tournaments before deciding to enter the world renowned Wimbledon affairs. . . . The McLarnin-Ross battle was won by youth and stamina rather than seasoned skill that accompanies the aged of the boxing world. . . . which was just the opposite of the Canzoneri-Ambers outcome. . . . Canzoneri will fight Frankie Klick in a non-title bout in Washington on June 10.

Found guilty of refusing to work on a relief job assigned to him, Harlan Bennett of Deleware was sentenced to spend 30 days in jail.

'Go Into Your Dance' Proves a Smashing Hit

Whistling and humming the new song hits introduced in First National's latest musical spectacle "Go Into Your Dance," will be shown at the Cameron Theatre Sunday and Monday June 9 and 10.

First National has given the public not only a musical comedy, but a picture that is replete with dramatic situations a swell as hilarious laughs and romance—gigantic, spectacular dance numbers.

The cast is headed by a most remarkable team, Al Jolson, stage and screen star who introduced the talking picture, and his wife, Ruby Keeler, one time musical comedy star who rose to fame on the screen in the last two years.

Never before have the two played together, each fearing to take the spotlight from the other. But in this picture they work together as a perfect romantic team.

Jolson shows more of his old time verve, both in his singing and his acting, than he has displayed in other pictures. His work with Miss Keeler seems to have given him an unusual stimulus.

As a broadway entertainer, in the picture, he is barred from the New York stage because of his fondness for the "ponies" and also wine and women. After sharing honors with a little dancing girl in a mid-West town he stages a comeback that sets the theatrical world aflame.

Miss Keeler is as sweet and winsome as ever as the dancing partner who is unable to hide her love for the great entertainer although he continually snubs her, having fallen for the wiles of a blues singer, the wife of the king of the underworld.

PLAN DEMONSTRATION POULTRY VACCINATION

How to vaccinate poultry for chicken pox will be demonstrated at the J. L. Schrieber farm in the Marak community west of Cameron on Monday, June 10, beginning at 2:30 p. m., E. D. Parnell, Cameron teacher of Vocational Agriculture, reports. A flock of 12 week old pullets will be vaccinated by Parnell.. The best methods of removing intestinal worms, destroying lice and culling the flock to remove the low producers, will also be demonstrated, Parnell says.

All farmers who may be interested in this work are welcome to attend. The follicle method of vaccination is simple and inexpensive and is 100 per cent effective in preventing the chicken pox disease in the poultry flock, Parnell says. Only young birds—preferably 10 to 12 weeks old pullets, should be treated, as treatments of older fowls that have started laying sometimes causes a death loss among some of the weaker birds in the flock.

This meeting is a follow-up of the evening school that was held at the Ad Hall school for farmers.

Virginia Veasey's Vanities Feature Local Children

Cameron people are looking forward with interest to the dancing revue of the pupils of Virginia Vesey at the high school auditorium Monday night June 10.

The Vanities of 1935 will feature a number of Cameron children, some of whom were on the Waco program Tuesday night at the Waco Theatre.

Miss Veasey will bring a large number of her pupils from Waco for the revue in Cameron Monday night.

The program will feature a tap number by Harriett Moore, Dorothy Ann Pope, Virgie Krause, Gloria Anita Cole, Mira Wingfield and Leslie Rose Torno. A solo by Caroline Chambers will also be a feature.

Misses Mary Joe and Lucille Stedman who appeared on the program in Waco will be some of the headline attractions of the revue here Monday night. They are veterans of the stage in these dancing revues. Jane Stedman will be one of the dancers in this program.

Vivian Balhorn, Rosemary Bennett and other Cameron children will be on the program.

Railways Are Large Buyers of American Materials and Goods

It must be emphasized that the Railways are large purchasers of products of American industry, in many cases the largest group of buyers. This includes the widest variety of products.

In 1934 they used more than 25 per cent of the Bituminous coal mined; about 5 per cent of all the anthracite coal produced; 19 per cent of total of all fuel oil; 17 per cent of the total steel output and more than 20 per cent of the total lumber production, in addition large quantities of metals, chiefly aluminum, lead, zinc and tinplate, were purchased directly by the railways in amounts averaging about one per cent of the total output and it is also evident that the railways played an important part in the cement and copper business.

Laxative combination folks know is trustworthy

The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, powdered Thedford's Black-Draught has prompted them to get the new Syrup of Black-Draught for their children. The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they outgrow their childish love of sweets. Mrs. C. W. Adams, of Murray, Ky., writes: "I have used Thedford's Black-Draught (powder) about thirteen years, taking it for biliousness. Black-Draught acts well and I am always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just that."

IN A PICKLE

Spanish Fork, Utah.—William Lloyd certainly found himself between the devil and the deep blue sea recently. After setting the fuse of several sticks of dynamite in a deep, steep-walled ditch, he started to run. To his amasement just in front of him he saw a large coiled rattlesnake. Fellow workmen say he "just popped up" out of the ditch.

Odorless, Tasteless Refrigeration!

Odorless . . . because the constantly changing air freshens the interior of the modern ice refrigerator, thus removing strong odors. This air-conditioning process makes it possible to place, in open vessels, butter or milk, in the same storage space with onions, cabbage, or other foods with a distinctive odor. The air-washing effect of the melting ice carries all odors out of your refrigerator. Each food retains its own individual flavor. Ask your ice dealer to demonstrate this new method of refrigeration to you.

A particularly interesting and complete report of costs comes from a national fleet owner who has owned 854 Ford cars which have run more than thirty million miles in business use.

175 were Model T Fords which were run 5,017,075 miles. 599 were Model A Ford cars which were run 24,041,632 miles. 80 are Ford V-8 cars which have been run 2,982,886 miles.

This owner's cost records show that Ford V-8 cars cost 12% less to operate than the Model A Fords and 31% less than the Model T Fords. And they covered more miles per month! The monthly average for the Model T Fords was 1509 miles. . . . For the Model A Fords, 1866 miles. . . . And 2571 miles for the Ford V-8.

Each year the Ford car gives you more in value and performance and costs you less to operate.

Actual Figures Show The Ford V-8 is 12% More economical than the Model A. and 31% More economical than the famous Model T.

Sunday School Lesson

by HENRY-RADCLIFFE

CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

International Sunday School Lesson for June 16, 1935.

GOLDEN TEXT: "It is required in stewards that a man be found faithful."—I Cor. 4:2.

(Lesson Text—Deut. 8:11-18; 2 Cor. 9:6-8)

Very often one hears the objection that preachers so often "talk about money." These critics object because the subject touches their sore point. The generous giver never worries about the presentation of an opportunity of service. If he (or she) can afford to help, even with some self-denial, it is a pleasure. If one is unable to contribute, through no fault there is no reason for reproach. The church member whose religion can't open the pocket-book for a worthy cause should re-examine his (or her) profession of faith and love.

Certainly, to one who believes in a God who created all life, the sharing of a part for the accomplishment of His purposes is logical and desirous. To give back some part of our good fortune to benefit others less fortunate and indeed is the only way we can acknowledge His ownership by right of creation. Without God and the society of His creatures, there would be no property, nor any value for it.

In the Old Testament the tithe (one-tenth) was the measure of this religious and social obligation, Abraham gave tithes to Melchizedek; Jacob made a vow to give God a tenth, and ancient Hebrews kept the tithing law of Lev. 27:30-33; Num. 18:21-32, and Deut. 12:5-18. In the New Testament the arbitrary tithe is replaced by the law of Stewardship—all that a man has should be used for the kingdom, which includes feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, caring for the sick, and so on, as plainly taught in the separation of the sheep and goats in the Parable of the Last Judgment.

Certainly the obligation of the Christian to share in love his good fortune as far as possible with those in need and distress is stronger than the Jewish tithe-ideal. The end contemplated for Christians is, as Alexander MacLaren points out, "evidently not money-making but character-making, the development of a hardihood of temper and a firmness of will which can be turned to good account when the obscure traitors shall have been turned into distinguished leaders." The Christian whose love impels him to help others receives more benefit than the recipient of his generosity.

Just before the children of Israel were to enter the Promised Land, after years of wandering in the wilderness, Moses warned them against forgetting God in the more prosperous days to come. Read Deut. 8:12-17. Paul in his letter urges systematic and proportionate giving—on the first day and as one has prospered. "To spend my income rightly is one of my first tasks as a Christian," says Harris F. Rall. "I should set aside a definite proportion for the church and the service of others. . . . I should invest this money for God as carefully as in my temporal business and keep strict account of this fund. . . . I should pray with my giving."

"The stewardship movements of the church have been too shallow," says Ralph C. Cushman. "They have been concerned primarily and almost wholly with the matter of giving a financial system to the church. That may be a good place to begin, but it is certainly a poor place to end. The stewardship movement needs a deeper conversion to the social ideas of Jesus. Not merely to give financial aid to the church was the stewardship movement born of God, but to Chrstianize the whole idea of property, in order to Christianize all industry and all business and all of life."

Washington News For Milam County Farmers

From Cameron Herald's Washington Bureau

POWER ON THE FARM.

DRIFT TO THE CITIES.

AAA AMENDMENTS.

KILL FRAZIER-LEMKE LAW.

The Rural Electrification Commission, with $10,000,000 in its hands and more available if needed, is getting organized and beginning to take up the problem it is supposed to solve.

So far, the ideas of the commission are vague and stated only in general terms, but the hope is that power will be offered to the farmers at rates that will encourage its use on a fairly large scale in agriculture.

Whether the lines will be carried to the farms by utility companies, public plants or through cooperative farm groups remains to be developed along with the details of the assistance that will be extended by the R. E .C. to the agencies involved.

Our own idea is that for the present, at least, an effort will be made to secure results through existing agencies and that there will be no building of lines by the government if there is any way to avoid this.

Farmers in all sections of the country should keep up with this matter and take advantage of the opportunity to secure electricity. Generally, the service ought to be possible where there are three to five consumers to the mile, the number varying with the consumption of the consumers.

Once again, it seems, the people are drifting from our farms to the cities as they did before the depression. Figures for 1934 show that 994,000 persons moved from farms to cities while only 783,000 moved the other way.

Farm population declined steadily from 1910 to 1930, dropping from 32,076,960 to 30,169,000. The depression, however checked the drift to the city and sent thousands of persons back to the farm. Moreover, even though the tide changed again in 1933 the excess of births over deaths on the farms in the past two years caused the total farm population to move to an estimated 32,779,0000 persons, the largest ever recorded in this country.

The Supreme Court decision on NRA last week had its effect upon consideration of the amendments to the AAA introduced in the House and taken up in the Senate by the unusual procedure of substituting the House for the Senate measure.

Observers suggested that this favored position of AAA legislation followed on the heels of the huge vote for the wheat program and the march of 4,000 farmers to the national capital. A deadlock of many months seemed to be broken but constitutional questions may delay final action.

The new provisions increase the Secretary of Agriculture's licensing power, authorize the "ever normal granary," permitting the payment of farm benefits in kind in lean years, takes one-third of customs receipts to finance marketing of surpluses abroad, permits the use of part of the estimated $100,000,000 from this source to retire marginal lands and authorizes quotas or tariffs to prevent excessive agricultural imports.

The unanimous decision of the supreme court, declaring the Frazier-Lemke act unconstitutional, raises a serious question for thousands of farmers and affects an indebtedness estimated at about $12,000,000,000.

There is little use to go into the reasoning of the judges. The fact that several district courts had upheld the law is of little consequence in the face of the voice of the high tribunal, holding that the act constituted the taking of property from the holder of a mortgage and giving it to the farmer without compensation.

That efforts will be made to pass legislation to protect many farmers from losing their land is certain. While the situation is not as bad as it was when the act was passed there still exists the need of some remedy for hard-pressed farmers.

A North Carolina Newspaper prints an item full of pathos and sympathy, in the loss of a subscriber whose dog was killed by an automoble, concluding as follows: "What makes it the more distressing is that he has only eight left."

Wardrobe Program Here On June 7th

The first wardrobe achievement event to be held in the county, featuring a dress contest will be held by the home demonstration women of Milam county at the Yoe High School June 7th.

Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist from A. & M. College, will judge the contest. Mrs. Jesse Coward, chairman of the County Home Demonstration Council will preside.

The public is invited and those attending are asked to bring a picnic lunch.

Miss LaVerne Hunt Becomes Bride of Lester J. Windham of Texas City In Quiet Ceremony at Old Ranch Home Near Killeen

A quiet home wedding held Sunday morning June 2 at 9 o'clock at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hunt of Killeen, united in marriage their daughter, Miss La Verne Hunt of Texas City, to Mr. Lester J. Windham, also of Texas City.

Rev. John Grigg, pastor of the Baptist Church in Maxdale, read the single ring ceremony in the presence of the family and a few invited guests. Mrs. Ruth Nichols of Houston, friend of the bride, in white costume was bridesmaid.

The setting of the wedding was in the ranch home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hunt, in the Maxdale community, where native ranch flowers in a profusion of color, were attractively arranged throughout the spacious home, and lent pleasing charm to the living room where the nuptial vows were taken.

The bride was handsomely attired in a late model of crepe in ashes of roses shade with turquoise blue trimming and wore a large picture hat of blue with accessories to match with shoulder corsage of pink carnations and sweet peas. She is a graduate of Belton High School and attended business college at Tyler. For a number of years she has been in Texas City as manager of the branch of the Western Union Telegraph Company. She is a sister of Mrs. J. B. White of Cameron.

The groom is the son of the late Dr. J. C. Windham and Mrs. Windham of Mount Olives, Mississippi. For some years he has been with the laboratories of the Pan-American Refining Company and in charge of the office in Texas City where the largest refining unit in the world is in operation by Mr. Windham's Company. He is a world war veteran and prominent young business man of the coast city. The brode's brother-in-law, J. B. White of Cameron was best man to the groom.

A wedding breakfast was served to the wedding guests Sunday morning before the wedding ceremony, at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Hunt.

The happy bridal couple left immediately after the ceremony, the bride changing her bridal dress for a white traveling suit with small hat and accessories to match. They visited San Antonio and Carlsbad, New Mexico while on their honeymoon and returned to Texas City where a ready furnished cottage awaited the bride.

The bride was recipient of many pre-nuptial courtesies in Texas City before her wedding and received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Relatives and friends present at the wedding ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. White of Cameron, Mrs. Ruth Nichols of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hunt and children of Hunt Ranch, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brown and baby of Florence, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Howell of Belton, Misses Patsy, Marjorie and Ellis B. Harrington, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Allday have returned from their honeymoon spent in Corpus Christi and San Antonio and are now at home in the Denson apartment.

Mrs. Allday is the former Miss Lillian Blanche Wiley who has taught for several years in the Ada Henderson school of this city. This couple was married on last Tuesday night in Temple by Rev. Barcus, pastor of the Methodist parsonage. Mrs. Allday, for the ceremony, wore a stylish dark blue crepe suit with blue accessories. She is the niece of Mrs. John R. Upchurch of Leander, with whom she has made her home for years.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Allday of Franklin. He has held the position of billing clerk for the Robert McLane Wholesale company in this city for a number of years.

It isn't nice to refer to "false teeth" any more, according to a member of the dental profession, speaking before a national convention. "Denture" is a more pleasing term, he said, his suggestion winning applause from his assembled fellow practioners of the prosthetic art.

His attempts to rescue the family cat from a tree proved fatal to Nickey Sheheen of Ithaca, N. Y. He fell from the tree and was fatally injured.

BRYANT STATION CLUB NOTES

Brining is a good way to save surplus cucumbers, using a brine about 40 strength, or in which a fresh egg just floats. A brine of this strength, fermentation is somewhat slow, but pickles will not spoil if this strength is maintained, stated Mrs. B. B. McAnulty, in a demonstration on making fermented pickles at the Bryant Station H. D. Club Friday May 31, in the home of Mrs. G. W. Mann. The History of Mother's Day and Gift suggestions were given by Mrs. Bena Chambers and Mrs. Kay Moore. 8 members and 3 visitors were present.

You are cordially invited to attend the Community Party at the Bryant Station School House Friday evening June 14.

The cow, the sow and the hen bring more farm relief than any plan yet devised.

They are great remedy for the evil of "one cropping."

Easy - chair farming? Yes!—but it works.

It made Wisconsin famous.

We Have Reached the GOAL and then Some

The Herald's subscription recruit campaign has ended with great success. Actually hundreds of new readers were placed on the list and equally as big number of old readers paid up their dates.

There will not be additional reductions in the price of the subscription. Readers should be certain to look well to their dates because the lists are to be revised at regular intervals.

When subscriptions are discontinued the publishers are merely complying with postal regulations and no subscriber should feel he has been discriminated against.
